Only 4 days left to apply for new reality show from the creators of RuPaul's Drag Race

NEW YORK, NY -- Top talent and casting agency, VPE: Vinnie Potestivo Entertainment, is currently casting The Fire Island Summer Project, a new reality series that will follow a group of young gay men, and the people who love them, living in a beach house in New York's hottest summer destination, Fire Island. The series will film during summer of 2012.

And, yes, despite the devastating fire in The Pines, the show will go on! "Fire Island business owners are giving us the cue that their businesses will be rebuilt by the start of the season and we'll be right there to celebrate along with them!," say's VPE President and casting director, Vinnie Potestivo. "We are working with event organizers hand in hand as events revolving around raising funds for Fire Island Repair are being prepared.What better time to show a community pull together than now?"

The Fire Island Summer Project is being produced by World of Wonder, the team that has produced some of the most fun, addictive reality TV shows ever including Being Chaz, Tori & Dean: Inn Love, Million Dollar Listing, Pam Anderson: Girl on the Loose and the ratings monster, RuPaul's Drag Race.

If you are available to live on Fire Island this summer, have an amazing story to share, you have until Friday, Dec. 2 to apply online at www.fireislandcasting.com For more information on other casting opportunities and VPEtalent, please visit www.VPEtalent.com.
