The #1 Online Guide to Gay Chicago Provides Valuable Resource for Summer Visitors

CHICAGO, IL -- Gays and lesbians planning a visit to the Windy City this summer for the 2006 Chicago Gay Games are encouraged to let popular LGBT website ChicagoPride.com be their guide to gay Chicago.

"If you want to keep your finger on the pulse of the local GLBT community, you've got to check out ChicagoPride.com," Nick Oram - Q on the Move.

The Chicago-based website (www.chicagopride.com) offers unique content and state-of-the-art technology which has propelled it to become the leading online resource for Chicago's lesbian, gay, bisexual and trans-gendered community.

Drawing on the expertise of over 40 regular contributors and photographers, ChicagoPride.com provides extensive coverage of "things to do" and "places to visit." Updated regularly the site offers restaurant and bar listings, reviews and recommendations.

ChicagoPride.com created the first gay and lesbian interactive database of events and businesses allowing visitors to locate comprehensive information and reviews on thousands of businesses, restaurants and bars serving the community. Members are able to search and personalize the events calendar and business directory to create a better online experience.

The site also provides maps, public transportation information and weather.

"Our Lifestyle Tools will make it easy for visitors to find what they need to plan their summer visit to Chicago," says R. Matthew Inawat, president. "Our team has spent extensive time researching Chicago's GLBT community and we believe our site offers the most complete information on the internet. We are extremely excited to showcase the vibrancy and diversity of gay Chicago."

Additionally, ChicagoPride.com has created an online community offering the opportunity for members to search for, meet and communicate with people who share common interests. The ChicagoPride.com Totally Free Personals have quickly grown to become the most popular online dating service for Chicago's LGBT market.
